SUMMARY

MILLENNIUM

The Millennium range is produced via the Charmat method, always in reflection of our longstanding heritage and craftsmanship in winemaking since 1892.

The harvest

The harvesting begins after our systematic observations to ensure the grapes will be ripened enough to contain the natural sugars levels we need yet retain their juices to convey the fruity, aromatic intensity and distinguished character.

The fermentation

We obtain the must for creating the distinctive fruity base wine via the first alcoholic fermentation, where we use the finest quality of yeast to inoculate with the natural sugars and convert into alcohol.

The second fermentation is performed in stainless steel pressured tanks, where the yeast converts the natural sugars to carbon dioxide (CO₂) to deliver the delightful bubbles that trigger your palate.

The perlage

Every step of the process is shielded by our oenologist's expertise, with constant monitoring and frequent tastings to balance the acidity and taste that will bring out all the voluptuous flavours for each variant. Dedicated to each detail, we ensure the perfect temperature to extract the finest creamy perlage. We filter any sediments to obtain a crystal-clear colour and proceed directly to bottling to retain the grapes aromas.

The Millennium range delivers a fresh, fruity-fizzy character, that will take you on a sensorial journey every time a bottle is opened.

Label Cut Out:

The triangle-shaped label represents our life line, growing through experiences until we reach the triangle top, satisfied for what we have accomplished while reminiscing the bubbles that formed our life.

Bottom stripes:

They are the key differentiator between products within the range.

“M”:

The Millennium mark is symbolised with the stand-alone “M” executed in a relief shiny copper and encircled by the black contextual bubble, as a spark of light in the darkness, representing all the memories collected that will eventually form our life’s circle.

Bubbles effect:

The precious sparkles are executed with an enchanting glittering visual and a “fizzy” tactile to represent the daily gift of life; Each bubble is the circle of the daily journey that comes to completion leaving its marks of a new experience and moments to cherish. Day by day, piece by piece, we collect big or small marks; the bubbles that form our life.

Neck Label: 1892 Seal is imprinted in tactile and shiny copper, signifying our longstanding heritage and craftsmanship in winemaking especially in the production of sparkling wines via natural fermentation.
